

Student Travel Grant

We are pleased to provide a grant for students who are from developing countries, and want to partake in this year's conference: the XXVII Congress of the International Society of Biomechanics 2019 (ISB 2019), held in conjunction with the 43rd annual meeting of the American Society of Biomechanics (ASB).

With the generous contributions from various faculties and units at the University of Calgary (Kinesiology, Nursing, Biomedical Engineering, Medicine, Schulich School of Engineering, McCaig Institute, Science and the office of the VP of Research), as well as from our conference sponsor Delsys, we have financial support to assist students that are performing at an academically high level, but may not have the financial support that other students receive from their institutions.

Enclosed, prospective applicants can find the details regarding what is included in the grants, who is eligible to apply, as well as an application form.

On behalf of the University of Calgary, Delsys and the organizing committee, we look forward to hosting you in 2019.

Sincerely,

Dr. Walter Herzog
Conference Chair

Grant Details

Students that qualify for financial support will be provided with the following:

- Free conference registration
- 5 complimentary room nights at one of the four hotels associated with the conference*

*Students may be roomed with other grant winners in double occupancy rooms, and hotel reservations will be made from July 31st – August 5th, 2019.

Eligibility Criteria

Students that wish to apply for a student travel grant must meet the following criteria:

- Have an abstract accepted for congress
- Be currently enrolled as a graduate student at a post-secondary institution that is in the following list of developing countries*
- Not have additional travel grants that combined with this grant would exceed the expected conference costs.

Application Process

Potential applicants are asked to submit their abstracts by January 31st, 2019. Please note that during the submission process on the congress website, there will be a box that will need to be clicked for students that are applying for a Developing Country Student Travel Grant. The abstracts will then be reviewed, and a final decision will be made and communicated to the grant applicants by April 15th, 2019.

The ISB/ASB organizing committee will then register successful applicants and email registration confirmation to these individuals. In addition to the complimentary registration, the ISB/ASB organizing committee will also reserve hotel rooms for the successful applicants. (Checking in July 31st, and checking out Monday August 5th).
