Track 2
Beside the megacity and the role of other cities and areas: Planning for balance

The Smaller Town
As Component of an Urban Settlement Cluster

Derry O’Connell
University College Dublin
Bartlett School of Planning, University College London
- process on the ground
  identify case studies
- planning documentation
  interrogate context
- players and stakeholders
  confirm promise and performance
- cartographic overview
  establish process chronology

- process on the ground
  identify case studies

- planning documentation
  interrogate context

- players and stakeholders
  confirm promise and performance
• cartographic overview
  establish process chronology

• process on the ground
  identify case studies

• planning documentation
  interrogate context

• players and stakeholders
  confirm promise and performance
Clonmel; block-edge passage types, numbered by stage (as listed in table 8037)
Retail development of any type

Retail development of recognisable stage described in block progression (chapter 8, table 8037)

3003 Use of the cross-matching technique from dendrochronology (3.02.03)
A Congestion forces traffic outwards

B Retail activity follows

Car park forms anchor of entry to town but not via street

Town adjusts to link anchor of entry to street